New literacies: complex skills and strategies associated with using ICT (Information & Communication Technologies) to ask important questions, locate information, evaluate and synthesize that information and communicate effectively to others.

Plagiarism from the Internet presents a new challenge for teachers.

Focus Question: How might plagiarism from the Internet impact the way you teach?
What can you do to prevent your students from plagiarizing when conducting research?

Learning about URLs

- .net: Internet access provider
- .gov: government agency
- .org: non-government/non-profit organization
- .edu: educational (ac for academic in the UK)
- .com: commercial organization (co in the UK)
- .mil: military
- .biz: commercial business

What are two new strategies you learned to help prevent plagiarism from the Internet?
